

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Republican Mass Meeting at Carnegie Hall, New York.

ALL FACTIONS ARE AT PEACE.

Forgetting Past Differences and Working for the Ticket

AND THE STATE CANDIDATES.

A Distinguished Gathering Occupies Seats on the Stage--Congressman Black, the Nominee for Governor, Receives a Honoring Reception--Lord Chief Justice Russell, of England, an Interested Spectator--Senator Lodge Makes the Principal Address of the Evening--Makes Many Telling Points Against the "Boy Orator" and the Chicago Conglomerate Called a Platform.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Republican mass meeting at Carnegie Hall to-night was a great success. The gathering in the immense hall was a representative and notable one. On the platform, which was tastefully decorated, sat elbow to elbow, Republicans who for several years had been at loggerheads on local issues. They apparently forgot past differences to make the rally for the gubernatorial candidate a success. Besides Frank S. Black, candidate for governor, and Timothy L. Woodruff, candidate for lieutenant governor, were Garrett A. Hobart, vice presidential candidate, Chairman Hanna, Thomas C. Platt, ex-Senator Gibbs, Congressman Odgers, and fully 700 citizens. Lord Chief Justice Russell, of England, and a party of friends occupied one of the boxes. Gen. Benjamin F. Tracey, ex-secretary of the navy, presided and opened the meeting with a rousing speech.

General Tracey then introduced Congressman Black, who was received with cheers, handclapping, and band playing. While the candidate for governor was speaking he was listened to attentively and when he made a telling point, the immense audience applauded vigorously.

At the conclusion of Mr. Black's speech, General Tracey introduced candidate Woodruff to the assemblage, especially to those who ride the wheel, as one who is well known throughout the state as "the friend of good roads." He was enthusiastically greeted, and when the excitement subsided, the nominee for lieutenant governor spoke briefly. He, too, was rewarded with liberal applause throughout his speech.

The next speaker was Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts. He was given a warm reception and as his speech progressed, he was enthusiastically cheered. Senator Lodge opened with a reference to the current phrase of the "enemy's country."

"No American," he said, "should be elected to any office who speaks of any party of the United States as the 'enemy's country.' To speak of any portion of the republic as the enemy's country is to manifest that evil spirit of sectionalism which was buried by the four years of civil war. The revival of that spirit is abhorrent, and use of the phrase, 'the enemy's country,' exists everywhere more than ever when applied to the city of New York than anywhere else."

The senator devoted considerable time to the currency question and referred to utterances of the "boy orator" and to the "many pearls of speech" which he has been strewing along the railroad lines of this country. "The purpose of the silver agitation was to get votes by making people believe that they were going to get something for nothing, and become rich without labor. It is a very old delusion. You will be able to get a dollar under free coinage only by getting it now, by exchanging for it labor or some other things of solid value. The difference will be that instead of getting a good dollar as you get now, you will get one worth only half as much. If you go to the single silver standard you will receive for wages of salaries the same number of dollars that you do now, but they will be worth only half as much."

The senator denounced "the effort to induce men to vote for the silver candidate by raising the cry of the masses against the classes. It is, he said, as vile an attempt as to endeavor to rouse sectional feelings. Speaking of the Democratic convention at Chicago, he said: "In its frantic disorder and wild carousing it recalled to the minds of all thoughtful observers the scenes which history depicts in the convention of the 'reign of terror and the revolutionary clubs of Paris.' If they could not manage the convention in orderly, decent American fashion, how can it be supposed that they could manage a great government? Look at the movement they keep up for each other's retirement. Are such men as these fit to take charge of the vast interests and complicated administration of this great republic? We have a number of important questions open in our foreign relations. We shall be called upon in a short time to determine what we shall do in regard to the Nicaragua canal. We must settle the controversy of the Hawaiian Islands. We must stop Canadian encroachment on our Alaskan boundary. We must see to it that the Monroe doctrine is guarded and vindicated everywhere. The Cuban insurrection is culminating and the day is not far distant when we must take decisive action to put an end to that hideous and desolating war. These are delicate, difficult and important questions requiring the highest and the wisest statesmanship. Imagine trusting them for a solution to the crew who wrote that platform and held that convention at Chicago."

At the conclusion of Senator Lodge's speech, there was another outburst of applause, at the conclusion of which, Edward Lauterbach spoke briefly, bringing the meeting to a close.

The Leadville Miners Strike.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 28.—The statement that a committee of five was appointed by the miners' union Saturday to consider the question of declaring the strike off, has been both confirmed and denied by prominent members. The day Secretary Edward declared positively that the strike will not be declared off unless the full demands of the union are conceded. The meeting of the miners' union, scheduled for to-night, at the headquarters of the union, was postponed, and the meeting would be postponed, has been postponed till Wednesday night.

AN INDUSTRIAL OBJECT LESSON

CANTON, Sept. 28.—The first organized delegation to call on Major McKinley this week came from Lisbon, Columbiana county, Ohio, and arrived at 12:30 this afternoon in a special train of ten coaches. It was made up of employees of the Lisbon tin plate mills, farmers, business men and mechanics from the vicinity, and was accompanied by the Lisbon city band. Hon. R. W. Taylor, McKinley's successor in Congress made the introductory address. Major McKinley replied as follows:

Mr. Taylor, My Fellow Citizens and Ladies and Gentlemen—I need not say to you that I am deeply moved by this call on this incident day from my old constituents, and from the home where my ancestors lived. I am glad, indeed, to have been cited by the people of national legislation that gave to the town of Lisbon an enterprising tin plate plant, which gives employment, as I am informed, to more than 25 people. YOU FARMERS AND MERCHANTS AND BUSINESS MEN KNOW HOW VALUABLE THAT PLANT HAS BEEN TO YOUR COMMUNITY AND COUNTRY, AND I SUBMIT TO YOU, NO MATTER WHAT MAY HAVE BEEN YOUR POLITICS IN THE PAST, WHETHER YOU WOULD NOT PREFER TO HAVE THAT TIN PLATE FACTORY IN YOUR COUNTRY AND IN YOUR STATE THAN TO HAVE IT IN WALES. IT ONLY ILLUSTRATES WHAT HAS BEEN SAID THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS OF TIMES BY THE STATESMEN OF THE PAST AND BY THE LEADERS OF THE PRESENT, THAT THE MORE FACTORIES YOU CAN HAVE IN ANY COMMUNITY, THE BETTER WILL BE THE GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS AND THE BETTER WILL BE THE MARKET FOR THE FARMER.

BICYCLE CRAZE

Has Struck Bavaria—Good Opening for American Manufacturers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A general bicycle craze has struck Bavaria, according to a report from United States Commercial Agent Carpenter, at Furth. The opening for the young and can be seen daily practiced in back yards, vacant lots and along country roads, desperately struggling to maintain an equipoise, and the apothecaries are consequently doing a brisk business in liniments and court plasters.

A short time ago it was not considered at all proper for young ladies to appear on bicycles, but the strong prejudice which existed has been gradually giving way, and now the ladies, married and single, and the young girls are rapidly becoming enthusiastic devotees of this afternoon sport. The two local bicycle companies existing have begun to increase their plants to meet the rush of business and two new companies are about to embark in business before the end of the year.

The consul thinks there seems to be a fine opening for the American bicycle maker, as good European wheels are sold for an exceedingly high price, and they are certainly not to be preferred to the light, graceful American machine. The Germans do not buy on credit but must see the goods, so that the proper way to reach the market is by means of agencies supplied with wheels. The day assessed by weight is small, not exceeding a dollar and a half for one bicycle. The wheels should be fully equipped with mud guards, bells, brakes and lamps, all covered in one price, for the Germans do not like to buy extras.

WORK OF GUERRILLAS

An American Planter Subjected to Many Indignities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A special to the Herald from Santiago de Cuba, says Vice Consul Hyatt has entered an energetic protest in the case of Peter E. Rivery, an American planter, maltreated by Spanish guerrillas on his coffee estate, La Esperanza, near St. Luis, on road to Bayamo. During his protest to the Spanish officer in command of the guerrillas against the destruction of his fences and property by the latter's forces, Rivery was abused and led out to be summarily shot. The timely intervention of a Spanish scout, who pleaded with the officer and vouched for Rivery's neutrality alone saved him. Even then the guerrillas were so enraged that, in defiance of the officers' orders, they brutally beat Rivery with their rifles, and before leaving his plantation tore down the American flag waving over his residence, warning him not to display it again.

All Americans, the guerrillas said, were either "mambs" or rebel spies, and if not openly aiding the revolution were doing so secretly, consequently they all ought to be shot wherever found by the Spanish troops. Rivery, who is of French extraction, and came to Cuba some years ago to assume control of property left him by his grandfather, who died in Martinique. He is highly respected by the better resident element and is in no way suspected of sympathy with the revolution.

The Spanish colonel in command at St. Luis apologized to Rivery for the outrage done him, and expressed his personal regret at the insubordinate acts of the unruly guerrillas in the field.

St. Louis New Theatre Opened.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—The Century theatre, which has been in the course of erection for more than a year at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, was opened here this evening. The building covers half a square, and is of white marble with a gray granite foundation. It is located in the heart of the center of the city, and is said to be the finest theatre in the United States outside of Chicago and New York. The decorative scheme is of green and gold, and the Italian Renaissance style prevails from the lobby to the drop curtain. The play presented to-night was "Liberty Hall," and was acted by Charles Frohman's stock company from the Empire theatre, New York. Miss Viola Allen, his eldest daughter, and grand daughter of Joseph Jefferson, and Glen McDougall, of New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herman Palze, of Fall River, and the form of the Episcopal church was employed. Prominent among the guests were President and Mrs. Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. McDougall will reside in New York.

"Two Men of Business" a Go.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—E. M. and Joseph Holland prevented Henry Guy Carlton's new comedy "Two Men of Business" at McVickers theatre this evening. The play deals with business and social life in New York. A fashionable and brilliant audience witnessed the initial production and by frequent bursts of applause and curtain calls testified their appreciation of Mr. Carlton's work. Both of the Hollands scored heavily. E. M. Holland, however, probably having the stronger character.

The President was a Guest.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Sept. 28.—There took place at the residence of Charles B. Jefferson, the marriage of Margaret Jefferson, his eldest daughter, and grand daughter of Joseph Jefferson, and Glen McDougall, of New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. SENATOR ELKINS

Addresses the Largest Meeting of the Campaign at Huntington. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 28.—To-night the Republicans of Huntington and Cabell county held the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the campaign. Every seat, and even the aisles, in the large Davis Opera House was occupied. Many were turned away for the reason there was not even standing room.

Senator Stephen B. Elkins was the speaker and he held the closest attention of his auditors throughout his masterful arguments for sound money and protection. His speech was punctuated at frequent intervals by the loudest demonstrations of approval.

At to-night's meeting the Calumet Cadets, dressed in their beautiful white suits, which the boys donned for the first time, the Mark Hanna club, with uniforms and a dozen other clubs were out in force, and a magnificent street parade, which proved to be a perfect stunner to the opposition, was witnessed.

THE NEW YORK TANGLE

Chairman Jones will Confer with the Leaders and Try to Unravel It.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Chairman Jones of the Democratic national committee, has gone to New York, where, to-night, he will meet Senator Gorman and other Democratic leaders and endeavor to straighten out the tangle in which the New York Democrats find themselves by the withdrawal of John Boyd Thayer.

The Democratic chairman's departure was kept so secret that only one or two persons connected with the national headquarters knew of the senator's going. He left Chicago yesterday afternoon. An invitation will, it is said, be extended to Senator Hill to meet the leaders at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-night and advise with them of the Democratic national leaders announced to-day that fusion with the Populists is practically perfected, in every state where it was attempted except Indiana, and the plans there have not been entirely abandoned. The last state to agree on terms was Kentucky, and the silver men say they are more than ever before encouraged to hope for success there.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK

Condemns the Burning of Burns' Establishment at Worcester, Mass.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—William J. Bryan arrived at the Hotel Bartholdi at 5:30 this afternoon. He was accompanied by a committee from Tammany Hall, who had gone to Bridgeport, Conn., to meet him. About 200 persons cheered him at the hotel entrance, and he tipped his hat and smiled in recognition. Mr. Bryan was evidently nursing his throat as his coat collar was turned up tight. He went direct to his room and there later dinner was served.

Mr. Bryan's attention was to-day called to the burning of the Burns factory at Worcester, Mass., and to the suggestion contained in dispatches that the building may have been set on fire by some one who felt indignant at the action of Mr. Burns, last Friday, in permitting the hanging out of the Red flag with Mr. Bryan's picture on it. Mr. Bryan said: "There is nothing that I care to say on the subject. I do not believe that any advocate of free silver would do harm to Mr. Burns or his property. While Mr. Burns' action on Friday was not very courteous, I paid no attention to it. He has a right to decorate his building as he chooses, though the decorations might be offensive to his political opponents, and his neighbors had a right to criticize his actions if they saw fit to do so. But, if any one has attempted to injure him or his property, such person ought to be punished like any other violator of the law. No political reason can excuse an attack on a person or property. Our campaign is a campaign of education, and no true follower of the cause will attempt to violate the law, no matter how bitterly the gold standard may assail us or our principles."

Arthur Sewall, vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel a short while before Mr. Bryan reached the city. He parted company with Mr. Bryan at London, Conn. "I am of the belief," said Mr. Sewall, "that Mr. Bryan's tour of the New England states will redound to the good of our ticket. I never witnessed such enthusiasm and genuine interest as was evoked by Mr. Bryan's appearance wherever he went."

"The other side may say what they please, but I know that the silver sentiment is growing stronger in the West every day. Of course, we don't hope to carry Maine, nor will we make any special effort, but I don't think that the recent state election is any criterion as to how things will go in November."

Mr. Sewall will stay in town several days at least, and will speak at the Tammanyville convention to-morrow night. He will go west from this city to attend the convention of the National Democratic Club, which meets in St. Louis on October 3rd.

Mr. Bryan bade farewell to Connecticut at New London at noon to-day, although he added a few words at New Haven, the last stop in the Nutmeg state.

At New London Mr. Bryan found questioners, and for some time carried on a dialogue with an elderly gold man near the speakers' stand. The police were inclined to interfere at first, but Mr. Bryan begged them to let the interrogator go on with his questions, as he would be glad to reply to them. The crowd was with Mr. Bryan and his answers to the questions were cheered enthusiastically. George Fred Williams followed the nominee's speech with a short speech, in which he repudiated the action of the Yale students, claiming that they did not represent the citizens of Connecticut.

Evidently, New Haven wished to make amends for the reception Mr. Bryan received there last week for the despotism of the operators and the lack of humanity. The citizens were there in force, both in point of numbers and in volume of lung power. Mr. Bryan spoke to them only a moment, but in that moment he gave them opportunity to disclaim any participation in the riotous demonstration of the collegiates.

Jones and Gorman on Deck.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Chairman Jones, of the Democratic National committee and Senator Gorman reached the Fifth Avenue hotel about 7 o'clock to-night.

Telegraph Operators Strike.

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—A strike of the telegraph operators and train dispatchers on the Canadian Pacific railroad was ordered for 9 o'clock to-night. When the strike was ordered one operator at the Windsor street station in Montreal walked out, and two or three train dispatchers and a few operators at stations of lesser importance did the same.

Was the Oldest Member.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 28.—Hon. Thomas Hawkins, the oldest member of the West Virginia legislature, died to-day, aged seventy-four years.

HAD HARD LUCK.

The Lick Observatory Eclipse Expedition to Japan in Hard Luck.

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 28.—From advice recently received from members of the Lick observatory eclipse expedition to Japan, it is anticipated that the party will arrive here on Friday next. Its home coming is fraught with much interest, for several of its members met with thrilling adventures.

Dr. G. E. Shuey, Professor Schaeberle and Louis Masten while returning much disheartened from the station in northern Japan selected for the observations, they were determined to climb the snowy summit of Fujiyama, 12,000 feet above the sea level, notwithstanding the ominous conditions of foul time with a severe storm. The ascent was not marked by any extraordinary features until the snow line was well below us, writes Dr. Shuey. The storm broke furiously upon us within a very short time afterwards. It was the most furious that had beaten about the snow clad mountain top for many years. Hailstorms rolled in and swept the crags, and we nearly perished. For thirty-six hours, we were storm bound. Our food supplies were exhausted and we suffered much. We searched for shelter, and at the summit located a ramshackle hut, which afforded a slight obstacle to the fiercest of the storm that raged about.

The party was found at Kobe by Professor Burckholder. Dr. Shuey writes under September 2: We left Goshima a few days ago, after making the ascent of Fujiyama with the intention of coming direct with our limited knowledge of Japanese and the station agents less knowledge of English we could not understand why, he would not sell a ticket through to Kobe. He would only let us have one to Nagoya, where we had to stop over night. Then we could only get another ticket to Kyoto, and at the latter place learned that the cause of our difficulty was due to the fact that the storm we had while on Fujiyama was one of the most severe ever known, so no through trains were run. Washouts along the route greatly delayed travel."

HORRIBLE CRIME

That was Doubtful at First, but is Now Fully Proven.

NEWPORT, Ark., Sept. 28.—The dead body of a girl was recovered from the river near Jacksonport about two weeks ago and her identity until to-day was a mystery. Since then officers have been investigating and to-day it was learned that she came from Farmora, Van Buren county, and just before election day she had eighteen men arrested for assault.

When the case came up her testimony was so horrible that officers doubted her statement, and discharged the prisoners. Since the finding of the body evidence has been unearthed which reveals the truth of her statement and shows that she was outraged and afterwards murdered by some of the men whose arrest she had caused.

Young Society Man in Trouble.

HYDE PARK, Mass., Sept. 28.—Harold Gray, a young society man of this place, is missing and a warrant for his arrest has been issued. Gray was the Boston manager of the American Wringer Company, of New York, and is wanted to answer to the charge of misappropriating between $20,000 and $25,000. An investigation of the Boston office, it is alleged, shows that $10,000 worth of stock is missing, and the balance, it is claimed, has been taken from collectors and accounted for.

Seven Thousand Re-employed.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 28.—The Amoskeag corporation started up again this morning, after an enforced idleness of several months' duration. All departments were set in motion, employing about 7,000 people.

Resumed Operations.

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 28.—About 1,000 operatives returned to work in the mills of the Boston Manufacturing Company, of this place, and others will be taken in and given employment from time to time until the entire force will be at work.

Burden Iron Works Start Up.

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The resumption of work at the Burden Iron works to-day is the cause of rejoicing in a great many families in this city. While the full force of men is not at work, there are in the neighborhood of 1,500 employed. It is thought the works will be put on in full force very soon.

Furnace Fires Relighted.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Sept. 28.—The fires will be lighted in the furnaces of the Eleanor Iron works of Hollidaysburg and the Tyrone Iron works of Tyrone, this county. Both plants will run on full time day and night. These industries have been idle during the summer. Five hundred men will be given employment.

Sensation in Mrs. Maybride's Case.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Press Association says it is reported that statements which Superintendent Bryning made shortly before his death will lead to a startling development in the case of Mrs. Florence Maybride, confined in the Aylesbury female convict prison, on conviction of poisoning her husband. Superintendent Bryning was a conspicuous figure in getting up the case of the prosecution upon which Mrs. Maybride was convicted.

He was Murdered.

YANCEYBURG, Ky., Sept. 28.—It is now developed that David Rogers found on the railroad track September 13, torn to pieces, was murdered and put on the track. Charles Harmon has given information that he saw men place the body on the track. A bloody club near the spot, the absence of blood on the track, add support to the theory of murder.

FOR SOUND MONEY.

The Opera House Meeting of Sound Money Democrats.

THE SPEECH OF MR. H. A. ADAMS.

Of New York, was the Finest Exposition of the Sound Money Side Yet Heard in Wheeling—The Audience was Enthusiastic—Mr. Adams Tore the Bryan Arguments to Shreds—The Democratized Condition of the Eastern Populace.

The campaign of the National Democratic party in Wheeling was opened most auspiciously at the Opera House last night, and those present were rewarded by hearing the best argument in favor of sound money given in this city this campaign. In fact they heard two elegant speeches.

It was a memorable event. Men who have voted and led in the Democratic party all their lives were there to publicly express their disapproval of the platform and candidates of the Chicago convention. Not only this, the leaders of
